EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. This Report includes figures on:
 - Results management outcomes (including ADRVs) of all AAFs detected by WADA-accredited laboratories for samples collected from athletes in- and out-of-competition in 2013, by sport and discipline (Section 1) and testing authority (Section 2).
 - ADRVs that resulted from non-analytical findings by sport and nationality (Section 3).
 - The total number of ADRVs in 2013, which includes AAFs that resulted in an ADRV plus all non-analytical ADRVs and presents the data by sport and nationality. It is further broken down into type of samples (urine or blood), type of test (in- and out-of-competition) and athlete gender (Section 4).

2. Outcomes of AAFs are classified under five categories in this Report:

TUE: The athlete had a valid TUE that justified the presence of the prohibited substance in the athlete's sample.

No Case to Answer: Cases closed at results management level, excluding TUE cases. Such cases include for example: authorized route of administration for glucocorticosteroids; departure from International Standards; medically justified AAF (low-level athletes as per the definition of athlete in the Code*); cases outside WADA's jurisdiction (including non-Code signatories); and, other particular cases (for example, THC cases that were closed based on the principle of lex mitior upon increase of the threshold in 2013 for this substance).

No Sanction: The athlete was exonerated or deemed to have no fault or negligence following a full disciplinary process. For example, all meat contamination cases where the athlete was exonerated are included in this category.

Pending: WADA has not received all the documentation required to validate the case decision. This may include information such as a reasoned decision, TUE, the athlete's name, etc.

ADRV: A decision was rendered and an ADRV was recorded against the athlete following a full disciplinary process. The sanction was either a reprimand or a period of ineligibility.

*The definition of 'athlete' in the 2009 Code (which applies to the 2013 cases) stipulates that "a country could elect to test recreational-level competitors but not to require therapeutic use exemptions." As a result, when an AAF is reported for a recreational-level athlete, the case can be closed if the athlete provides a documented medical justification for the use of the substance.

3. A total of 207,513 samples were received and analyzed in 2013 by WADA-accredited laboratories. 2,540 samples were reported as AAFs. Of these:
 - 1,687 (66%) samples were confirmed as ADRVs (sanctions);
 - 223 (9%) samples were dismissed because of a valid TUE held by the athlete;
 - 347 (14%) were categorized as "no case to answer" (i.e. case closed for a valid reason other than a TUE);
 - 106 (4%) samples resulted in "no sanction" because the athlete was exonerated; and
 - 177 (7%) samples were still pending.

4. Among the 1,687 ADRVs as a result of an AAF, the samples were collected from:

- 330 female athletes and 1,357 male athletes;
- 366 out-of-competition and 1,321 in-competition;
- 1,684 urine and 3 blood;
- 112 nationalities (as recorded in the case decision received by WADA);
- 84 sports (sports/disciplines as reported by the WADA-accredited laboratories in ADAMS)

5. A total of 266 non-analytical ADRVs were confirmed in 2013 and involved individuals of:

- 44 nationalities (as recorded in the case decision received by WADA);
- 37 sports (as recorded in the case decision received by WADA)

Non-Analytical ADRVs in this Report refer to violations related to Articles 2.2 to 2.8 of the Code that do not involve the detection of a prohibited substance by a WADA-accredited laboratory. These cases include athletes and athlete support personnel.

6. By combining analytical findings from AAFs and non-analytical findings from 2013 the totals are:

- 1,953 ADRVs;
- 115 nationalities;
- 89 sports
